Proclamation Urging Red Cross Support is Issued by Bartlett

Village President Recommends Increased Public Interest in Its Work

The American Red Cross, confronted with increased demands because of the current national defense roll call program, will on Nov. 11 embark on its greatest Roll Call since the days of the first World War.

The Waukegan-North Chicago and North Lake county chapter, which includes the Lake region, has been asked to raise its goal of memberships, according to L. J. Wilnot of Waukegan, roll call chairman.

In co-operation, Village President George B. Bartlett has issued the following proclamation:

WHEREAS conditions in the world today have necessitated an unprecedented peacetime extension of our Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard; and

WHEREAS our national civilian defense program necessitates a strengthening of all those services es-

State Seeks Site For Warden School

Conservation Chief Examines Sites for $40,000 Institution

Search for an available site that will be suitable for the establishment of a school for game wardens and other employees of the department of conservation was being continued this week by Livingston E. Osborne, director of the state department of conservation.

Osborne visited Antioch Tuesday and also the Fox Lake area where he was an honored guest Tuesday night at a gathering of 185 sportsmen and business men. While in Antioch Osborne told the News that a site for the proposed institution definitely had not been decided and that it would not be selected until the most ideal location was found. State engineers will be consulted regarding damage, sanitation, and highway and landscaping possibilities, Osborne said, as well as the problems of construction of new buildings or the remodeling of old ones, if any were on the grounds chosen, before a final decision is made by department officials.

$75,000 Appropriation
The funds for the proposed school, which will serve also as a museum of fish and game common to this section, and as an administration headquarters for the department, have been made available through the state legislature's appropriation approved June 23, 1941. Specifically, $35,130 has been earmarked for education and promotion, and $40,000 for employees training school. Thus the $40,000 may be spent for buildings and grounds for the institution and the $35,130 for equipment and maintenance until further funds are voted by the legislature.

When the institution starts to function more than 60 executives, instructors and students will be quartered in the building at all times, Osborne said. The site of the building will be designated as a state park, and many visitors will be attracted to the locality. Osborne, speaking at the meeting Tuesday night, outlined the policies of his department. It is his plan, he said, to take the appointment of fish and game wardens and other employees out of politics. A rigid form of civil service examination will be adopted and only those who have a sincere desire to give the utmost in service and who are mentally and physically fit will be appointed to receive training for positions. An age limit of 45 years may be set.

Not Charity Project
Fox Lake community has been especially active in its effort to have the institution locate in that immediate locality. Heading the group of citizens there is Mayor Arthur J. Amundsen, who arranged the testimonial banquet for Director Osborne Tuesday night. Amundsen appointed a committee of men there to look over several pieces of property and report by this Saturday to village officials on prices and terms. Amundsen and associates, it is said, are also considering a plan to raise funds to buy a site which would be turned over to the state as an outright gift.

In contrast to the activity in Fox Lake, no "pressure" groups have been organized here. Local residents, working with Director Osborne in inspecting available properties, have taken the director's word that the warden's school is not in any sense a project to be promoted through charity—it is simply an investment by the state to promote more efficient conservation. For that reason, any gift proposal will not necessarily be a determining factor in the selection of a site.

Soybeans Loans Available to Lake County Farmers

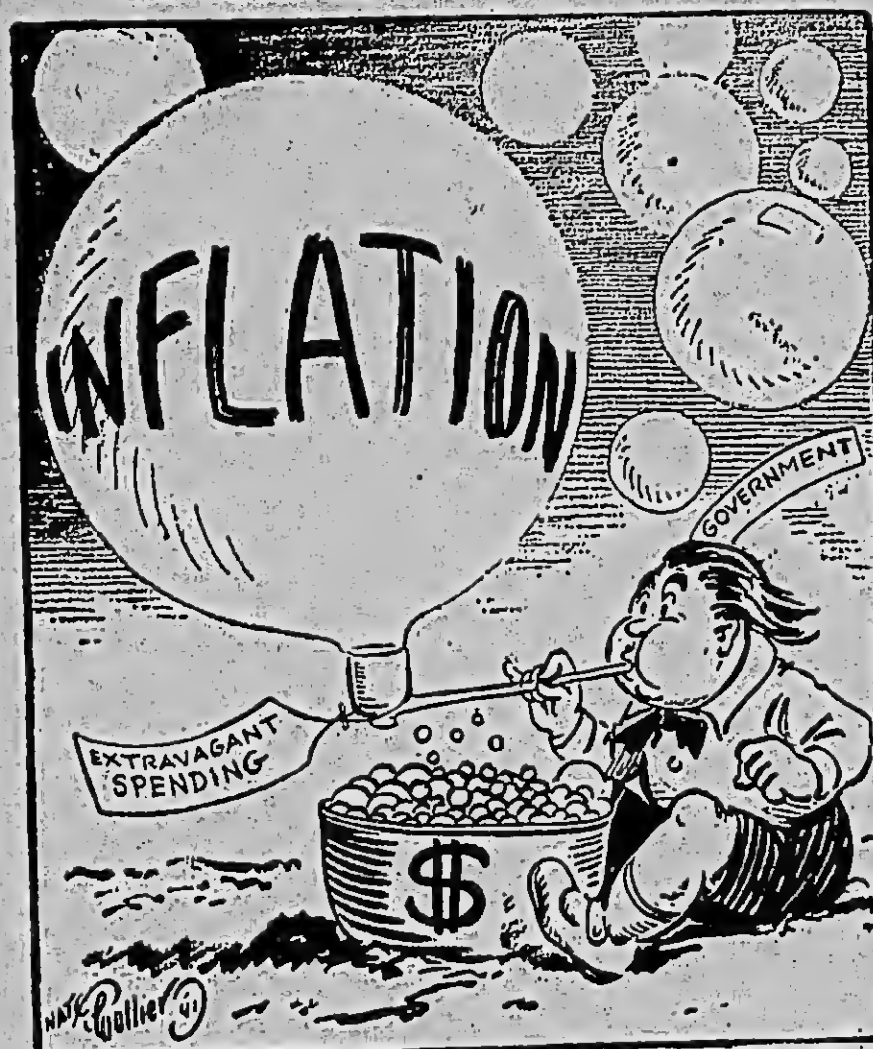

Soybean loans will be available to Lake County farmers this year for the first time, according to Chester A. Faulkner, chairman of the Lake County AAA committee. The loan rate is $1.05 a bushel for No. 2 beans.

The soybeans loan program is designed to aid the orderly marketing of a 1941 crop stimulated to record proportions to meet defense needs. Mr. Faulkner termed the loan a "storage" loan rather than a "price-supporting" loan, explaining that this action by the government will enable the grower to store his beans in the anticipation of a higher price next spring. In past years, bean prices have always been lower at the harvest season when large quantities move to market.

Loans will be made through the Commodity Credit corporation and will be serviced by AAA county committees the same as the present loans on wheat, corn and other basic commodities.

Mary Kay Lynn, daughter of Mrs. J. F. Lynn of Lake Villa, has been elected vice-president of the freshman class at Carroll college.

I'M FOREVER BLOWING BUBBLES!

Dr. John Holland to Speak in Waukegan Sunday Night

Dr. John Holland, pastor of the Little Brown Church of the Air, will speak at the First Methodist church in Waukegan on Sunday evening, Nov. 9, at eight o'clock. The public is invited to hear his address on the subject, "The Harp of Life." There is no admission charge, but a silver offering will be taken. Special music has been arranged by the Wesleyan Service Guild, which is sponsoring this program.

The First Methodist Church in Waukegan is located at the corner of Clayton and Utica streets.

Antioch Future Farmers Promote Many Activities

Learning through participation is the general rule in the department of vocational agriculture at the Antioch Township high school, under the supervision of C. L. Kutil, instructor.

The farm problems class is studying land erosion and its control. Two field trips have been made. One trip demonstrated the contrast shown on a badly eroded farm as compared with a hilly but well controlled neighboring farm. The members are now laying out contours for strip cropping and terraces. They are prepared to do this work for any land owners within the district who may desire their services.

The animal husbandry class is studying swine raising and at present are making a detailed study of hog cholera, its causes and control. A film showing hog cholera control is being shown. Mr. Ollendorf of Chicago has kindly offered to start several of the Antioch students off in raising purebred Hampshire swine by loaning them a bred gilt this fall. The boys are to keep all of the first litter except the first and third choice pig, which will go to Mr. Ollendorf. Four boys have expressed a desire to go ahead with this plan.

Alan Thain, recently purchased a pure bred Holstein heifer calf from the Gordon Bonner herd of Lake Villa.

The soil and crops class has just finished the study of hybrid corn and are now starting out on an exhaustive study of soil formation, fertility, and soil testing. The school's expensive and most modern Trough Soil Tester is one of the few now in use in Illinois schools. Mr. Kutil's attendance at the Wisconsin University summer school in 1938 gave him an opportunity to study under the famous Professor Emil Trough, who invented the new methods of soil testing. Soil testing service is available to school patrons.

This week the farm mechanics class saw a motion picture entitled, "Farm Inconveniences." It showed in a humorous vein the inconvenience of having poor gates, broken ladders, poor fencing, rusty implements and tools, misplaced tools, leaky roofs, broken steps, muddy yards, etc. The boys quickly caught the idea. Sometimes it's best to teach how not to do a certain job, especially if one can show how silly it appears.

The boys are now sharpening cross cut and rip saws. Two-man cross cut and circle saws are also being sharpened. Ladders are being repaired and painted, and a two wheel trailer is being built.

A new student, Dean Hagen, of Tomah, Wisconsin, enrolled in the Farm Problems class on Monday.

On November 15, 18 boys will exhibit 64 entries of poultry, eggs, corn, grain and honey at the Sectional F. F. A. Fair at Wauconda, Illinois.

Quiet, If Damp, All Hallows Eve Is Passed Here

The downpour of rain that dampened the ardor of Halloween celebrations in nearby cities also prevented the costume parade of school children that had been set for that evening as part of the Antioch observances.

The theatre party that had been arranged through the courtesy of Manager Fred B. Swanson of the Antioch theatre, the Lions club and business men and civic leaders of the community, was, however, held as scheduled and prizes were awarded by the Lions for the best costumes. Each child, in addition, received a gift.

Antioch passed a quiet Halloween, with a special police force of eight or ten men assisting Marshal William Thieman in keeping it quiet.

Last year was also comparatively quiet within the village limits, with the exception of one or two incidents, although in previous years considerable damage had been done under the guise of Halloween pranks.

This year, Village President George B. Bartlett had issued stern warnings to would-be pranksters. Attention was called to the fact that Antioch's annual civic Halloween celebration is intended, as in other communities where similar observances are held, to take the place of unregulated Halloween pranks. It has been pointed out that in most communities where special celebrations are held, the young folks observe the spirit of "noblesse oblige" by refraining from window soappings and other Halloween stunts in return.

Antioch Team Wins Poultry Judging Honors

The Antioch High School Poultry Judging team won the Northeastern Illinois Poultry Judging contest held Saturday at Palatine.

The contest was open to nineteen schools of Section III comprising the Northeastern corner of the state.

C. L. Kutil, Vocational Agriculture instructor, coached the boys and accompanied them to Palatine.

Mrs. Agnes Dunn returned to Antioch Monday after spending several days in Milwaukee with her son, George Winchell, who has been very ill, but is improving.

Chir Kelly is ill this week at his home.

Charles Griffin Dies After Two Weeks' Illness

Shock and Complications after Extraction of Teeth Believed Cause

Shock and other complications following the removal of 21 teeth about two weeks ago were blamed by physicians for the death of Charles Griffin, Route 173, early Monday morning at his home. The Antioch rescue squad had been called to the home 36 hours earlier, and assisted the attending physicians by administering oxygen throughout that period.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Peter's church, with burial in Hickory Union cemetery.

Griffin, who was 55 years of age, was a member of an old and highly respected Kenosha and Lake county family. He had lived in the vicinity of Antioch for the past 23 years, at one time residing on the farmstead across from Antioch High school, and had operated his farm in the Bear Hill section for about 9 years.

Mourned by Many
He was born in Kenosha county May 9, 1886, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Griffin. His father preceded him in death, but his mother survives.

Also surviving are his wife; his daughters, Mrs. Rual (Frances) Richards, Sandwich, Ill., and Mrs. Oscar (Marie) Preston, Antioch; his sons, Fred, of Grass Lake, Arthur, who operates a farm near Antioch, and Robert, at home; his sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Grosser and Mrs. James Hoyer of Kenosha; Mrs. Alfred Pedersen, Route 173, Antioch; and his brothers, William Griffin of Salem, Joseph Griffin of Milwaukee, and John Griffin of Whitewater, Wis.

Dairy Herd Improvement Association to Hold Its Annual Meeting Nov. 10

All members of Lake County's Dairy Herd Improvement association and members of their families will meet in the Grayslake Grade school on Monday night, Nov. 10, at 8:00 p. m., for the annual meeting of the four associations. It will be noted that all four associations are meeting together this year.

An interesting program of talks, and moving pictures will be given. Prof. J. G. Cash of the University of Illinois, Dairy Husbandry department will attend the meeting.

The important business of the meeting will consist of electing officers for each association for the ensuing year. Every member is invited to bring along members of his family. A prize will be awarded to the tester who has the largest representation from his association at the meeting. An attendance prize will also be awarded to the members.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Mrs. Jess Rowling went to Chicago to attend the funeral of her nephew, Arnold Hoover, who was killed in an auto accident on the outer drive Sunday.

Mrs. Mollie Somerville spent the days last week with Mrs. Emma Miller at North Chicago. Mrs. Miller has been quite ill.

The Three Ickes

Although the "oil shortage" has affected only the Eastern Seaboard States, the way in which it has been dealt with should be of real concern to all Americans.

Here for the first time since this war started was what might be termed a test case—a test of how the Administration would handle an unexpected domestic emergency. The fact that the oil shortage—if there was one—never should have been unexpected, but rather should have been anticipated, is of no particular importance. Most of us have learned from the last lean and long nine years that this Administration is incapable of planning seriously for the future. We only have to glance at the National Debt to make sure of that.

What did the Administration do when it suddenly discovered that it had given away a large number of tankers? It made the error of naming a long-winded, bitter-clown as the man to "coordinate" the resulting situation—whatever it was.

Ickes-the-clown kept in the background during the hue and cry. But Ickes-the-long-winded was everywhere at once, shouting wildly about shortage and emergency. Of course, he did not do anything about the shortage; he just talked about it.

Finally the Senate Committee investigating the matter made its report. It included this:

"The committee believes that in the handling of the petroleum problem unnecessary alarm was created."

"... there is no shortage of petroleum products—nor a shortage, as of this date, of transportation facilities."

If Ickes-the-bitter can talk himself out of that one he rates a wooden medal.

Price Control Means Wage Control

The argument, made in some political circles, that prices for commodities and services should be arbitrarily fixed but that wages of labor should not be subjected to control, is a magnificent example of muddled thinking.

The price trend now is to a very large extent the result of the successful demands for ever-higher wages made by large groups of labor in all fields. We are beginning to witness the consequences in our daily living. For example, the retail stores of this country, led by the chains and the organized independent groups, have conducted an aggressive campaign against price inflation. They have cut overhead costs wherever possible and passed the savings on to the consumer. They have in many cases voluntarily accepted smaller unit profits. Even so, retail prices are rising steadily. The stores of America have reached the point where no major additional economies are possible, and where they can no longer keep in business without increasing the price charged the consumer.

In most industrial and agricultural fields, the cost of labor is a very large part of the total cost of production. It is reflected in the cost of all commodities, all materials, all supplies. How can there be cost stability under these circumstances without wage stability?

The plain truth is that all talk of workable price ceilings is idle unless wage ceilings are considered as well. The sooner labor understands that, the better for all.

If it becomes necessary to adopt strict price control, the freedom of action of all industry and all groups will be severely limited. Price control is price dictatorship. And labor must expect wage dictatorship by government, if government is forced to establish price dictatorship.

The Right to Do Business

It is no tribute to the intelligence of American voters that a preponderant part of the debate surrounding the efficacy of public versus private undertakings, hinges on which can do the thing the cheapest. Naturally a subsidized, tax-free agency of government may create a mirage of economy in every business enterprise it operates, from power dams to banks. The real question is, Does this country want big government? It is safe to say it does not. Big government means socialism and socialism means the termination of liberty.

This is the reason why, during the present defense emergency, every possible use should be made of private enterprise and private credit. Wherever government extends credit it places a mortgage not only on property, but on future liberty. Keep credit and business where they belong—in the hands of private citizens.

The surest way to destroy the whole free enterprise system would be to place the nation's financial credit entirely in the hands of government. The majority of bankers recognize the danger. That is why they are doing everything in their power to loan money to meet legitimate needs. They realize that it is not a question of promoting business. It is a question of retaining the right to do business in the traditional American manner, a right that if lost spells death to all other free enterprise and eventually to the representative system of government.

Those Days Are Gone Forever!

Not so many years ago, life on a farm was apt to be lonely, detached—somewhat like being marooned on a desert island.

The telephone helped to change that. Now you are talking to friends and neighbors almost any time... getting timely market news when you need it... ordering materials... arranging for extra hands or getting work in slack seasons... calling for help in a hurry in time of emergency. Yet you pay very little for the telephone's friendly, effective service.

It is our fixed aim to give you the finest possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost to you—even these days when fast-increasing demands tax our facilities.

"Old Mexico" Revue Pleases Large Crowd

Matinee and Evening Programs Given by Touring Mexican Group

"Old Mexico" as a person likes to think of it, a land of color, dance and music, was brought to Antioch last Thursday by the Pan-American Good-Will group featuring Senora Greta Rubio, soprano; Colonel Ricardo de Escamilla, narrator; the Chorro Continental orchestra under the direction of Don Jose Manzanet; Senora Velma Montoya, flautist; and Senora Elena Aves, musical composer and assistant director.

Three hundred pupils of schools in Antioch and the surrounding territory enjoyed an afternoon presentation of "The Romance of Old Mexico" at the Lakes theater. An evening program was given in the auditorium of Antioch Township High School, which was well filled. The group's appearance here was sponsored by the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club. The club annually sponsors one outstanding program which is open to the general public and deemed itself fortunate in securing the troupe, which had an "open date" between engagements in Reno, Wis., and Chicago.

Fantasy, Dance and Song
Woven together with bits of fantasy and humor narrated by Col. Escamilla, and "backed up" musically by the orchestra, "The Romance of Old Mexico" included typical Mexican, Spanish and Indian songs and dances, given in authentic and often gorgeous costumes the themes of the songs were acted out with bits of dramatic by-play enjoyed considerably by the audience—and apparently by the performers as well.

The program closed with a fiesta finale in which Col. Escamilla invited the members of the audience to consider themselves figuratively as his guests at the "Hacienda de Escamilla." The artist, taking part in the production—and the term "artist" was well deserved by their fine performance—and the excellent taste with which their numbers were chosen and presented—had no trouble at all in winning the approval of their audience. In fact, there were calls for many more encores than could be given, due to time limitations, and many listeners expressed surprise that two hours could pass so swiftly.

Colorful Setting
Simple but effective stage settings, featuring bright, light-colored draped over musical instruments and music stands (Senora Elena, the only female member of the orchestra, had an embroidered shawl instead), with the flags of Mexico and the United States displayed in the background.

Don Jose presented the narrator, who called upon the audience to join in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The overture was played by the Chorro, billed as "one of Mexico's finest" orchestra; they were, indeed, very good. They included besides Don Jose and Senora Elena, Salvador Sagues at the piano; Manuel Verdugo, bass viol; Frederico Salazar, marimba; and Manuel Olivas, drums.

Some of the incidents of the program were founded upon authentic adventures of Col. Escamilla, who served with Pancho Villa, and who touched upon a few of them in humorous fashion in his introduction, "El Coronal Pira Su Pira" (The Colonel Blows His Own Horn).

Senora Greta Rubio, a gifted young soprano with flashing dark blue eyes, sang "Currito de la Cruz," by Jose Vasquez Vigo.

Highlights of the evening included Velma Montoya's dances; the violin solo, "Laurimas (Teres)," composed by Jose Manzanet, and played by him with exquisite delicacy of tone; "Shontine," adapted by Elena Aves from an original Yaqui Indian melody and a Yaqui folk dance, and sung by Greta Rubio assisted in the dance—dramatization by Col. Escamilla; the "Song of the Inca Princess," by Greta Rubio, who is said to be a descendant of this ancient race. The costume (with gorgeous feathered cap) which she wore was of her own design, based, it is said, on authentic and traditional garments. Velma Montoya co-operated with verdice dance, "The Kettle of Tinajas." This part of the program was based on one of Escamilla's adventures in which he discovered a lost city of an ancient civilization.

In the "Hacienda" finale, Senora was featured in a marimba solo that was warmly applauded. Another of the orchestra leaders made a hit with

Stockpiles of Food for Peace

Here is what the U. S. Department of Agriculture means when it urges farmers to help produce "stockpiles of food for use after the war." The upper picture shows barrels of dried milk, just as good a year from now as today. The lower picture shows a warehouse filled with huge drums of cheese, even better with aging. These farm products, plus condensed milk, dried milk, cured pork, and canned meat and vegetables, constitute the stockpiles of defense food which, says Secretary Claude R. Wickard, will be needed by hungry Europe and "will exert the maximum influence at the peace conference table."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 2.

The Golden Text was, "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people" (Proverbs 14:34).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting" (Galatians 6:7-9).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The design of Love is to reform the sinner. Divine Science reveals the necessity of sufficient suffering, either before or after death, to quench the love of sin. To remit the penalty due for sin, would be for Truth to pardon error. Escape from punishment is not in accordance with God's government, since justice is the handmaid of mercy" (pp. 35, 36).

List Many Entries From Lake County For 'International'

Chicago, Nov. 3.—A number of prominent Lake county farm owners have listed entries during the past week for the 1941 International Live Stock exposition and horse show, to be held in the International amphitheatre at the stock yards Nov. 29 to Dec. 6.

Thomas E. Wilson, proprietor of Edelyn Farm, near Waukegan, will exhibit 14 head of purebred Shorthorn cattle and J. D. Allen, Libertyville, has made entries for the same classes.

John F. Cuneo, owner of Hawthorn Farm, Libertyville has listed 13 purebred Suffolk draft horses and nine Suffolk geldings for the show. The geldings will include a six horse team which will appear daily in the International Horse shows. The Wilson Packing company, of which Mr. Wilson is chairman, will also be represented by a six-hand draft horse team of Chidestades in the Exposition horse shows.

Gene Moore, an 18 year old Lake county farm boy of Barrington, will exhibit 18 head of swine of his own raising in the open classes of the show and three barrows in the junior classes, which will feature a showing of upwards of 600 hedges, lambs, and pigs that have been fed and fitted by farm boys and girls under 21 years old. Moore Brothers, of Barrington, have made one of the largest entries for the swine classes that has been received from any one prospective exhibitor in the swine classes this year, officials of the show report. They will exhibit 36 barrows representing four different breeds.

William Duncan, of Wadsworth, has entered 29 head of purebred sheep, 11 of which are Shropshires and 18 of which are Oxford.

The Exposition will mark its 42nd annual renewal this year as the country's largest live stock show. Entries are expected to exceed the 12,000 mark for the contests of the week that will feature 26 different breeds of farm animals, says B. H. Heide, secretary manager.

Although entries for the individual live stock classes of the show closed Nov. 1, a final tally will not be announced until later in the month, officials of the show state, because of later closing dates for the horse show entries as well as the ere lot contestants that feature the world's largest showing of fat and feeder cattle, sheep, and swine.

Henkle, chairman of the International Horse Show, which will be staged 12 times during the week of the Exposition and will present the finest specimens of riding and driving horses in this country and Canada in a series of spectacular programs, announces that the Horse Show entries will be accepted up to Nov. 17.

Growers will have until Nov. 10 to list entries for the 23rd annual International Grain and Hay show, world's largest farm crop show, which is held in connection with the Exposition, and the car lot entries will not be closed until Nov. 22.

sent to the public health and welfare; and
WHEREAS no section of the United States is free from the threat of natural catastrophe or disaster, such as flood, hurricane, tornado, drought, earthquake, fire, explosion, epidemic, and

WHEREAS the international situation still continues to cause intense distress among innocent victims, making essential American aid to suffering humanity abroad; and

WHEREAS the American Red Cross is the only organization in our land equipped and ready, first, to assist, advise and otherwise serve the men of our armed forces and their loved ones at home; second, to carry on in our own and every other community such indispensable welfare programs as Red Cross Public Health Nursing, instruction in Home Nursing, First Aid, Water Safety and all kinds of Accident Prevention, and through the Junior Red Cross in the schools, to act as the medium for service by our young people; third, to render protection and relief in case of the afore-mentioned disasters, and fourth, to undertake the administration of American aid to stricken noncombatants and refugees abroad;

THEREFORE, I, George H. Bartlett, President of the Village of Antioch, proclaim the period of the 1941 American Red Cross Annual Roll Call, from Nov. 11 to Nov. 30, a time during which the public spirited people of this community, both men and women, boys and girls, should make every effort to support and strengthen the Red Cross by enrolling through our local chapter as members of the Red Cross or by renewing their memberships in it; and I further proclaim that it is the sense of all of us who are residents of Antioch that our membership enrollment in the Red Cross must be larger than ever this year, in order to enable this great national organization of ours to meet whatever demands may be made upon it.

The Observer

We see where a certain senator is reported in a certain magazine as saying he wishes folks would stay out of Washington, D. C., "so we could go to war in peace." Well, now, Senator, if you feel that you, personally, simply have to go over to Europe and enlist to fight for dear old Lummox, we really don't see why we, personally, ought to interfere. After all, this is still a free country... or is it? —And we feel that an employer (that's us), as well as an employee, (that's you), still ought to have a little to say about how this U. S. of A., Incorp., had outta be run. Howaboutitkid?

It's annoying enough when children "act up" at a program and spoil the enjoyment of others in the audience who have shelled out their shekels for the event and expect to get a little pleasure in return — but it's inexcusable when grownups are guilty of the discourtesy to fellow members of the audience and to those giving the program. We're referring to the guys whose heads we couldn't bopped with considerable zest when they spoiled with their persistent monotone that lovely "Goin' Home" solo in the "Old Mexico" program at Antioch 11. S. last week. Whaddya think all the rest of us paid our 40 cents for, ammahow — to listen to the singer, or to youse guys? — Well, 'twant you...

Somepin else besides travel that "broadens one" is church dinners.

—This is all we kin think of this week.

Blind Brothers Do All Chores to Keep Farm Going

Aware of Coming Loss of Sight, They Prepare To Carry On.

KAUKANA, WIS.—Every morning Mrs. Nellie Willem's two "boys," Henry and Aloysius, drag themselves out of bed before daylight, fumble in the dark for their clothes, feel their way downstairs and go outdoors to the barn.

There they open the doors so that 27 Guernsey cows can file into neat stalls, filled with hay. Milking, a farm ritual, follows. The brothers' skillful hands soon produce pails of foaming, cream-laden milk. After the other duties of the barnyard are performed, Henry and Aloysius hurry back to the house for the breakfast prepared by their sisters.

These two brothers and their early morning routine are no different from hundreds of other Wisconsin farmers—except that Henry and Aloysius are blind.

Mother Is Invalid.

Henry's life has been shrouded in darkness for 50 years, and Aloysius, who is 35, has been blind for 10 years. Yet despite the handicap, their mother, herself an invalid for the past 14 years, insists that the 197-acre farm would not have stayed in the family if her "boys" had not faithfully remained at home to work for her.

Their disability keeps them from doing field work, but they perform virtually all of the innumerable odd jobs so vital to successful farming. Henry and Aloysius know every inch of their barnyard, where each tool is kept, how each bunch of hay is laid in the mow.

They do their chores confidently and capably, easing the job of the hired man who works in the field. The brothers even venture into the fields on errands, guiding themselves by the wind and contours in the ground rather than by canes or fence rows. They also repair the farm machinery and keep the equipment in adjustment.

Prepared for Blindness.

Henry tells how he discovered that he was going blind, and how he planned to overcome the handicap. He became aware of his plight when he noticed that the top of the barn was blurred against the sky and distant objects dimmed beyond recognition. While he could still see, Henry began preparing for his life of darkness. He memorized the location of everything on the farm, and noted details of operations that he would have to remember for a lifetime. When his sight vanished, Henry had done his job well because he was able to continue his daily tasks without difficulty.

As it became apparent that Aloysius' sight was failing, Henry tutored him in the art of memory. And when blindness came, he, too, was ready and kept right on working.

Three sisters, Elvira, Hilmaria and Malvenia, comprise the Willem's family circle. During the busy season the sisters don overalls and help with the field work. But these excursions to the fields are becoming less frequent. The sisters' sight also is failing, and they expect to join their brothers soon in the world of darkness.

Despite this promise of a somber future, the Willem's are a cheerful family, each member co-operating and doing his share to keep the farm operating. Speaking from her wheel chair, white-haired Mrs. Willem's avers that she is proud of the way her "boys" and "girls" carry on.

Admits Counterfeiting

To Keep From Stealing
ST. LOUIS.—Justice does not always sympathize with even a wise chooser of the "lesser of two evils."

That's what Matthew Casey, Negro transient, discovered when he told U. S. District Judge Charles B. Davis he made counterfeit dimes to "keep from stealing."

"I'm a victim of circumstances," Your Honor," Casey explained. "I had to make counterfeit money to keep from stealing."

"Besides," he added, "I only used 'em' to get good coins out of slot machines."

Judge Davis fined him $1 and gave him five years in prison.

Police Lights Catch

Bicyclists Like Moths
DENVER.—In their effort to locate boys who do not have proper night equipment on their bicycles, police are resorting to the "moth-flame" trick.

"We found the quickest way to capture violators was to draw up somewhere at night, touch the siren a couple of times and turn on the red lights. Those we were seeking came pedaling almost into our arms," one officer explained.

Goes to Donate Blood,

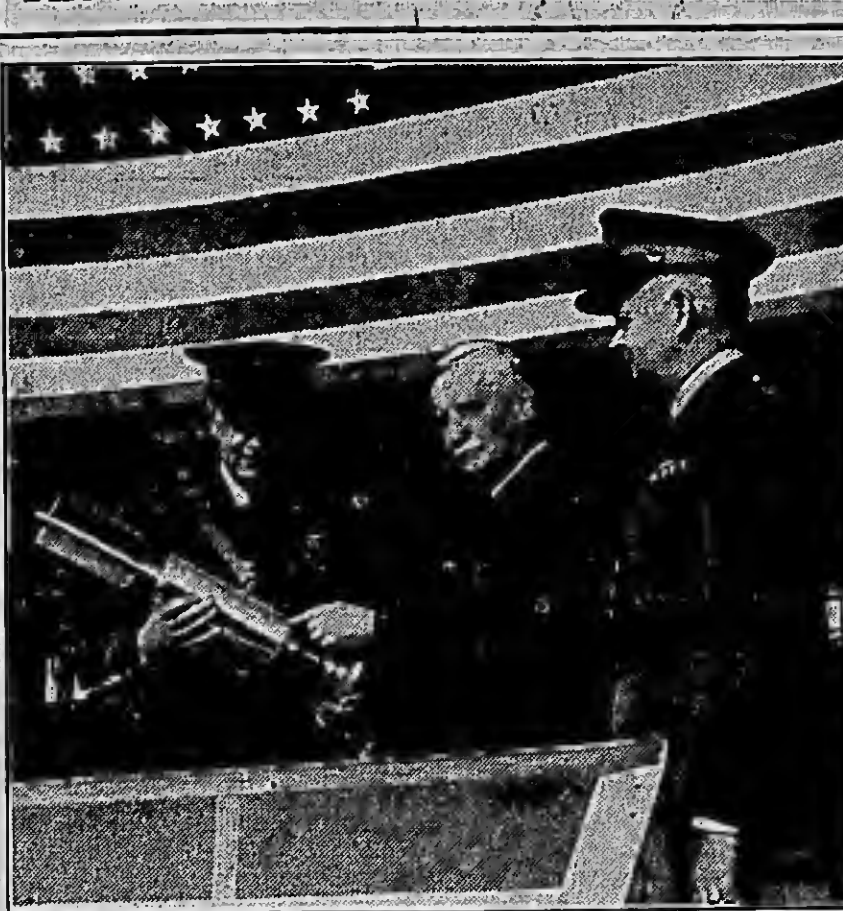

Is Given Transfusion
MIAMI.—"This is the blood tank, isn't it?" asked an anemic-looking man.

"That's right," said the doctor. "Lie on the table over there."

Later the little man arose. "Why, I feel better!" he exclaimed. "Loss of blood hasn't weakened me at all."

"Loss of blood?" gasped the doctor. "You looked so weak you gave you a pint."

The Millionth—For America's Defense

AS thousands of defense workers cheer, the one-millionth aerial fragmentation bomb produced by the Budd plant is presented to Col. D. N. Hausman (left), and Brig. Gen. B. O. Lewis, of the Army Ordnance Department, by Edward G. Budd, President of the Philadelphia firm. Although the exact rate of production of the new bombs, said to be the most deadly of their type in the world, is a closely guarded military secret, it is one of the highest in the U. S., officials revealed. The bomb is designed for use against infantry.

Hunters Fined for Baiting

Five men were caught baiting and shooting ducks on the grounds of a hunting club in the Illinois River bottoms between Lacon and Chillicothe last week. All were fined $100 and costs, two for baiting and the other three for hunting ducks in a baited area. Fifteen bushels of buckwheat and shelled corn were confiscated. Livingston E. Osborne, State Director of Conservation, led the surprise raid which rounded up the hunters.

Proclaims Armistice Day

Governor Dwight H. Green proclaimed Tuesday, Nov. 11, as Armistice Day. The day is a legal holiday. "Armistice Day now takes on a deepening meaning as America girds herself to defend her liberties," the Governor's proclamation says. "In view of the deepening significance of the occasion, I suggest that the Stars and Stripes be displayed this day generally at the homes of our citizens throughout the state, and also upon public buildings."

Antioch Firemen Save Farm House at Rosecrans

Quick action by the Antioch fire department is credited with saving from destruction the farm home owned by Lester Crow, one-half mile south of Rosecrans, when the roof caught fire from a defective flue Sunday morning at 3:45 o'clock. Damage was estimated at about $300. The farm is located outside the Antioch fire district in an area for which no co-operative fire-fighting arrangements have been made.

REPENTANCE AND FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Luke 15:11-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—Repent ye, and believe the gospel.—Mark 1:15.

Sin with its devastating consequences has its only remedy in the salvation which is in Christ Jesus. He died to set us free from the penalty, the power, and ultimately the very presence of sin. However, His death, which was for all mankind, is effective only for those who in repentance and faith accept His redeeming grace and turning from their sin.

1. Worldly Pleasure Brings Sorrow (vv. 11-16).

Selfishness is at the heart of sin, which is essentially self-will over against God's will. The younger son, who represents the sinner, wanted his own way. He suffered from

1. Restlessness Under Restraint (vv. 11, 12). The father loved his son and sought his welfare by proper parental control, but the boy wanted to be free to live as he pleased. God loves all men and seeks by loving and gracious restraint to lead them in ways of righteousness and peace. But they, while they want His blessings, are often eager to get away from His guiding hand.

2. A Request Resulting in Responsibility (vv. 12, 13). When the prodigal asked for his inheritance he took upon himself full responsibility for its use. The man who refuses to have Christ rule over his life assumes a grave and heavy burden which he is not able to bear.

It is an awful thing to rule God out of one's life, to attempt to steer a successful course through the stormy sea of life. Why do it? It will always result in loss and failure.

3. Riotous Living Leading to Repentance (vv. 13-16). In the "far country" he found for a time what we call "fun," but it led to bitter sorrow. To the flesh there are "pleasures of sin" (Heb. 11:25), but they are only "for a season"; that is, "very short-lived"—and they come high. "The devil is not such a fool as to go fishing without bait." The pleasures of sin are the devil's bait, and they always have a hook in them. If you bite at the devil's bait you will soon have the devil's hook in your gills and be at the bottom of the devil's boat (John W. Bradbury).

The end of Satan's "fun" road was a piper in a far country. That may not always be literally true (although it happens often enough), but it is always true spiritually. Men and women are in a state of spiritual collapse and disgrace because they have rejected God's way. But there is a way out.

II. Godly Sorrow Brings Joy (vv. 17-24).

Paul tells us that "godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation" and thus differs from "the sorrow of the world" which "worketh death" (II Cor. 7:10). The prodigal found his way back to the father's house. First, there came to him

1. Remembrance and Realization (vv. 17-19). He began to think. If men and women could only be made to think we would have more repentance, but Satan tries to keep them too busy to think. He remembered what he had as a son in his father's household. What memories will your boy have in his hour of need? You are writing that record now.

He "came to himself." The man in sin is really unbalanced, subnormal, not himself, spiritually insane. When he "came to" he knew that he was in the way of the perishing. Then came

2. Repentance and Return (vv. 20, 21). To repent means to change your mind, to turn your life in an "about face" from sin to God. Repentance calls for more than thinking or talking or praying. One must act. The young man "arose and came to his father." That was his part, and then came the father's part—

3. Restoration and Rejoicing (vv. 22-24). The son expected to return as a hired servant, but his father restored him to full family fellowship. God is gracious, and the repentant sinner finds himself clad in the spotless robe of Christ's righteousness, wearing the ring of sonship, with shoes on his feet, so that he may go on the errands of his Father.

God's plan of salvation brings no half-way redemption. There are no steps or distant relatives in His family. It is a full salvation which brings glorious fellowship in life and service.

You who are still eating the husks of this world, who are in the far country tending swine, we invite you too to come to God and share in the rejoicing in the Father's house.

Life a Struggle

Life is a struggle, but not a warfare; it is a day's labor, but labor on God's earth, under the sun and stars with other laborers, where we may think and sing and rejoice as we work.—John Burroughs.

Home Economics Instructor Attends Meeting in Chicago

Miss Isabel Larimer, instructor in home economics at Antioch High School, attended the twentieth annual state conference of Illinois Vocational Home-making teachers and the twenty-first annual meeting of the Illinois Home Economics Association at Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago, Oct. 30, 31 and Nov. 1.

"The role of the home-making teacher in national defense" was the theme of the vocational home-making teachers' conference. Dr. Muriel W. Brown, family life consultant at the U. S. office of education, Washington, D. C., was the conference leader.

Other speakers of note at the conference and convention were Dr. William Heard Kilpatrick, of the Teachers' college at Columbia university, who spoke Friday morning on "Key Problems in Education for Democracy"; Charles T. Haigh, head of the interior decoration department at Carson Pirie Scott and company; Dr. William H. Sebrell, United States public health service; Clara M. Sparks, state supervisor of home economics education; Dr. Julia Outhouse, of the department of home economics, university of Illinois, and chairman of the Illinois state nutrition committee.

A tour through the art institute Saturday afternoon concluded the program of the convention.

Miss Larimer was an advisor for a discussion group on Thursday on the question, "What the home economics teacher can do for defense." All discussion group leaders met with Dr. Brown on Wednesday evening in preparation for the group meetings Thursday.

Miss Larimer is the leader of the curriculum group for Lake and McHenry counties. A luncheon for curriculum advisors was held at noon Friday, and the curriculum groups met Friday afternoon.

"Appreciate America" Saltiel Urges In Talk Given Here

Woman's Club Sponsors
Open Lecture by Well-Known Attorney

(By Rose Marie Zellhofer)
"The United States should not be a crib out of which to eat, but an altar on which to make sacrifices," William D. Saltiel, noted Chicago lawyer and lecturer, told members of the Antioch Woman's club and the students of Antioch Township High School Monday afternoon.

"Appreciate America!" was Mr. Saltiel's general theme. His talk was sponsored by the Woman's club, which opened its Monday afternoon meeting to the high school students and the general public.

"We have inherited the rights and privileges of America and we don't appreciate them," Mr. Saltiel pointed out. "And everyone has to fight to preserve these rights and privileges during his lifetime. It is better to die upon one's feet than to live upon one's knees."

He continued, in substance, "There is no place in America for religious or racial hatred, and any person who has an unkind feeling toward others because of race or religious differences is not an American."

"Civilization should be built by reason and understanding, not by bayonets and blood. The Junior Chamber of Commerce motto, 'Learning by Service' is the real way to achieve a democracy."

"It is difficult to find a democracy in a city over 10,000," declared Mr. Saltiel. "So one must begin now to live democracy. Not the law, not the constitution, but the people will save America. The way to reform the world is to let every man clean his own doorstep first. The 154 years of representative democracy in the United States have been a success."

"Germany has found European countries so soft in democratic thinking that they are easily conquered. This war is not really fought with guns, but with false philosophy. Two hundred short-wave radios from Germany and Italy work on those who don't think, or who think democracy is too slow."

"Thirty million immigrants looked for justice in America and brought justice with them."

"Nothing human is perfect," continued the lecturer, "and democracy can only succeed if government is backed by people. It is sweet and noble to die for your country, but it is sweeter and nobler to live for your country."

Mr. Saltiel, well qualified to speak on his subject by reason of his activities in politics and his extensive travels, was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Antioch Ties With Northbrook for Conference Title

Ends Season with 0-0 Encounter with Grant High in Rain Storm Friday

(By Rosalie Sibley)
The Antioch Township High School gridlers completed their schedule at Grant High school last Friday in a down-pour of rain by tying 0-0.

Antioch, having lost one game, won three games, and tied three games, is co-champion of the Northwest conference with Northbrook, who has won two games and tied three games.

"Charley horses" and injuries handicapped the team throughout the entire season. Three of the regular players, among whom are George Sterbenz and Jim Roepenack, co-captains of the team, have played only two games this year.

Antioch won its first game of the season with McHenry by a score of 6-0. This was followed by two more wins from Bensenville and Grant, with the score of 7-6 and 10-0, respectively.

"The Sequoits" only defeat of the year was in the game with Zion, which ended with the score at 6-0. The game with Zion was not a conference game.

The last three games with Northbrook, Barrington and Grant were all scoreless ties.

The Sequoits held the Bulldogs inside Grant's 20-yard line during most of the game last Friday at Grant. In the last six minutes of the game the ball was on Grant's one-yard line, but because of the muddy condition of the field, the Sequoits were not able to get the ball over the line. Antioch went into this game with four of the regulars out with injuries.

When Coach Wolfenbarger was asked about next year's season, he stated, "Even with the loss of co-captains George Sterbenz and Jim Roepenack, as well as of Art Carpenter, Leo Buchta, Jim and Ed Jones, Art Small, and Bert Jordis, I still think the Antioch football squad will live up to the title of 'fighting Sequoits'. They have proved that this year."

Lineup, Friday:
ANTIOCH LE GRANT
Ed Jones LT Baldwin
Bill Effinger LT Grishean
Joe Nader LG Koller
Art Carpenter C Miller
Jack White RG Goodman
Art Small RT Bledsoe
Jim Jones RE Cunningham
Ed Dunford QB Molitor
Bud Maplethorpe LH Kosky
Bert Jordis RH Sebastian
Charles Balhke FB McFelly
Coaches: Wolfenbarger (Antioch); Werhan (Grant).

Officials: Unewitz (referee); McLean (umpire).

Book Week Tableaux Are Planned at High School

(By Martha Winch)
Tableaux for the annual Book Week program at Antioch Township High School, which will be given Thursday, Nov. 13, are now in rehearsal. Book week will be Nov. 6-12, but the date of the tableaux has been moved forward in order to avoid conflict with the presentation of the Junior play.

This year a variation of the tableaux will be tried—the pantomime and readers will be added to the usual "picture."
